

LA TERRORISTA
DEL SAVOR

A TROPICAL INFECT

Composer, producer, accordionist, and singer, born in Colombia and raised in Mexico, La Terrorista del Sabor has carved her own path in tropical music with a fierce, irreverent, and unique style. She fuses Latin rhythms with electronic, punk, metal, and post-punk, creating her own "electro-tropi-trash" or "Terroritmo." Each song builds its own universe, reflecting a freedom both in genre fusion and the diversity of styles she dares to explore. With lyrics and sounds that challenge conventions, she celebrates both musical and identity diversity. It's a political party; the lyrics intertwine with social critiques, personal reflections, and stories, both real and fictional, always seasoned with a touch of humor and boldness.

Since her debut in 2016, La Terrorista del Sabor has taken her music around the world. In 2017 and 2018, she signed with Tropical Gypsy Records, which allowed her to tour Italy three times, collaborating with artists such as Ixindamix and Maskk, and recording at the prestigious Quadraro Basement studio in Rome under the direction of producer Fuzzy Fracassi.

With over a decade of experience in the underground scene, La Terrorista del Sabor has captivated audiences with her energetic and authentic live shows, transmitting an overwhelming force on stage. Her appearances at international festivals have been unstoppable: she has performed at the Fusion Festival (Germany) three times, Vive Latino (Mexico), Guacamayo Tropical (Madrid), Funky Freaky Fest (France), Que Passo Fest (France), Primo Maggio Forte Prenestino (Rome) among others, and in legendary venues such as SO36 (Berlin), Sedel (Lucerne), Daschstock (Bern), Foro Indie Rocks (CDMX) and many more. She has shared the stage with inspiring bands like Kumbia Queers, Los Mirlos, Dengue Dengue, Chancha Via Circuito, La Phaze, My Bad Sister, Kumbia Boruka...

A SMUGGLING OF SOUNDS

To date, she has toured Europe seven times, taking her irreverent and energetic style to countries such as Germany, Switzerland, France, Italy, the Netherlands, and Spain. In Latin America, her music has resonated in Argentina, Chile, Colombia, Uruguay, and of course, throughout Mexico, a country she has tirelessly traveled across.

After several EPs and singles (Defectuozoo, Marakera Hardcore, Maña, Muerte al Miedo, Infección Tropical, etc.), in 2023, La Terrorista del Sabor released her latest album, Despeche Mode, a work where genre diversity and her unmistakable personal stamp come together at their peak. This album features collaborations with renowned Latin American artists such as Sara Hebe, Chocolate Remix, Magu Vagamundo, and Argerax. Despeche Mode was co-produced and composed alongside Leandro Spatola (Sick Porky, Maleboux, Catupecu Machu, and his alter ego DJ BEBU XX), a current member of her band.

In 2025, La Terrorista del Sabor will release a new album and several collaborations with Conjunto Media Luna (Col), Navex (Col), Bardo en Nueva York (Uru), and Kalbox (Mx), as well as two music videos. She will also embark on a new tour across Europe. Kumbia Boruka...

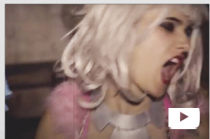

A TERROR VIBES CARTEL

The show includes two multi-instrumentalist members who manipulate sounds, creating loops and atmospheres, to which live instruments are added, such as synthesizers, accordion, guitar, bass, and vocals.
